NEWS FROM IFCM

12TH WORLD SYMPOSIUM ON CHORAL MUSIC (WSCM2020)Applications are now open for Choirs and Presenters
11-18 July 2020, Auckland, New Zealand

International guests in NZ, and a new closing date for applications!

Planning for WSCM2020 continues in earnest. In mid-June, the IFCM Artistic and Administrative teams met in Auckland for three days of intensive planning.

The meetings were open, free-ranging, detailed and exciting. They discussed budget, marketing, logistics, information, technology, registration, trade expo, cultural feel, programme shape, venues, selection, concerts, workshops, special events, adjunct festivals... and that was just the first page of the agenda!

Of the many outcomes, one is a decision to extend by a month – to 31 October 2018 – the closing date for choirs and presenters to apply to be part of the WSCM2020 programme. This is to allow Northern Hemisphere applicants, in particular, more time after their summer break to prepare a submission. The Call for Choirs & Presenters section of the website (wscm2020.com) has been updated with the new deadline.

Leading the international component of the Artistic and Administrative Committees, respectively, were two IFCM Vice-Presidents: Tim Sharp, Executive Director of the American Choral Directors Association, and Gábor Móczár, President of the European Choral Association. Joining them were prominent music educator Ki Adams from Canada, distinguished choral director Jonathan Velasco from the Philippines and Jean-Claude Wilkens, Executive Secretary of À Coeur Joie. A pretty stellar cast!

The guests were welcomed by members of Ngāti Whātua Ōrākei, the principal Māori sub-tribe of central Auckland, in a powhiri, a version of the traditional ceremony that all attendees of WSCM2020 will experience. They were then introduced at an informal function to the six New Zealand members of the Symposium committees: John Rosser (Artistic Director), Juliet Dreaver, Karen Grylls, Christine Argyle, Peter Walls and Lisa Davis Haunui.

The WSCM team were delighted that the visitors seemed to go away happy with the venues, their planning and even Auckland's mild winter weather. They are even more thrilled that both committees are determined to build on the successes and lessons of past WSCMs, and to create the most dynamic, innovative and moving World Symposium yet! Buy a 2020 calendar now and write across the week of 11-18 July: "In Auckland, NZ!"

IFCM FACEBOOK REACHED 100,000 FOLLOWERS ON JULY 6

This also means that the IFCM Facebook has had 96.000 more followers in less than four months. Thank you so much to all IFCM followers and supporters around the world who bring the number of countries represented to 140! Let's not stop here, let's extend this number and together with the other choral associations on Facebook, let's spread choral music over the planet.
