The ASIA PACIFIC YOUTH CHOIR was formed in 2009 at the IFCM Asia Pacific Choral Summit in Wuxi, China. The choir exists to embrace the ideas of respect, love and joy among the peoples of this culturally diverse region and to be instruments for peace and understanding.

Since then the choir has been performing over 60 concerts annually including regular concerts, project concerts and invited concerts including visits to local schools, hospitals, and companies. ### THINKING OF OUR KOREAN COLLEAGUES

The international choral community is thinking of our friends in South Korea at this time following the recent tragedy and senseless loss of life. The maritime disaster last month just off the coast from Seoul has personally affected many of our colleagues in the Korean choral community and within the teams who are working on the WSCM10. Some of the invited choirs to the WSCM10 will be performing in the Ansan Cultural Centre - the home town of most of the missing and deceased students and passengers. The IFCM offers our deepest condolences and support to the families, friends and colleagues in Korea.

VALE Paul Salamunovich (1927 – 2014) - a conductor and master musician accredited for shaping the sound of American choral music has died. Through recordings and live performances; particularly as Music Director of the Los Angeles Master Chorale (1991 – 2001); through his inspirational college and university workshops, and through working with some of the great directors of Hollywood in providing lush choral sounds for film scores, Paul Salamunovich created a unique choral blend and warmth that inspired composers such as Morten Lauridsen (Lux Aeterna) to write iconic music for the choral repertoire. A friend, mentor, and inspiration to many, Paul will be sadly missed in the global choral community. Rest in Peace.

Although much of his career centered around the British Isles and English music (particularly the works of Britten and Vaughan Williams), he was highly regarded for his performances of Bach and Mahler.
